INDEX

TO

VOLUME LXVI.

'Abyssinia,' Thiersch's, 195.

'Acts of the Apostles,' with Notes, &c., Lindsay's, 166.

Agassiz, Louis, 205; parentage and early years, 207; at Munich, 209; Humboldt generously befriends him at Paris, 211; professor at Neuchâtel, 213; England helps him nobly in his great work, 215; scientific views, 217; removal to America, 219; American career, 221; devout faith, 223.

'Agassiz: his Life and Correspondence,' Agassiz, 205.

'American Journal of Education, 1856–1872,' 129.

American Schools, 129; current notions saturated with fallacies, 131; causes of prevalent misconceptions, 133; exceptional social and educational conditions, 135; social and educational peculiarities, 137; causes of the predominance of female teachers, 139; rural schools, 141; casual nature of teacher-supply, 143; average salaries and average school year, 145; very few trained teachers, 147; teachers' certificates and female teachers, 149; common school and school district, 151; conclusions warranted thus far: points remaining, 153.

American Schools, 330; mixed schools —co-education, 331; co-education under varying conditions, 333; sex and education, 335; common schools formerly religious now secular, 337; reaction against secularism in New York and Melbourne, 339; primary grammar and high schools in cities, 341; public education in New York, Cincinnati and Boston, 343; a New York primary department, 345; English inspected and American schools compared, 347; American views as to American schools, 349; school attendance in America and England, 351; extensive truancy, no effective compulsion, 353; proposal to pay parents for loss of children's labour, 355; illiteracy in the States, 357; private schools and colleges, 359; conclusion, 361.

'Anglican Pulpit of to-day,' 160.

'Apostolic and Post-Apostolic Times,' Lechler's, 369.

'Art,' 182; 387.

'Artistes Célèbres,' Collignon's, 387.

'Aspects of the Blessed Life,' Pearce's, 186.

'Assyria,' Sayce's, 195.

'Bacon's Essays,' Storr and Gibson's, 183.

'Baptist Missionary Society, Periodical Accounts of,' vols. i. to vi., 1.

'Bible, an Outgrowth of Theocratic Life,' Simon's, 372.

'Bible Heathens,' Grant's, 375.

'Bible Readings,' Cross's, 164.

'Biblical Scheme of Nature and Man,' Mackennal's, 169.

'Boehme, Jacob: Life and Teaching,' Martensen's, 154.

Boleyn, Anne, 49; Wolsey's policy, 51; England in the sixteenth century, 53; Mr. Friedmann's authorities, 55; value of Chapuis' authority, 57; Anne's coronation, 59; conspiracy of A.D. 1534, 61; was Catherine murdered? 63; Mr. Friedmann's notions of evidence, 65; secular spirit in the Reformation, 67.

'Boleyn, Anne: a Chapter of English History,' Friedmann's, 49.

'Cambridge, University of,' Mullinger's, 173.

Canals, Report of Select Committee, 223.

'Carey, Life of William,' Smith's, 1.

'Carey, Marshman, and Ward, Life and Times of,' Marshman's, 1.

Carey, William, 1; father of modern missions, 3; missionary ardour, 5; first English Missionary Society, 7; East India Company and Serampore, 9; the brotherhood, 11; translation of the Scriptures, 13; opposition of Government to the mission, 15; controversy transferred to England, 17; Claudius Buchanan's work, 19; Carey's method's—vernacular preaching and education, 21; the 'Apostles of India,' 23.

'Carey, William,' Culross', 1.
'Catharine, Story of,' Ashford Owen's, 184.
'Centuries of Silence, Four,' Redford's, 366.
'Century Magazine,' January–March, 204; April–June, 400.
'Children's Service Handbook,' Davies', 163.
'Children's Services, Hints and Outlines for,' Goodhart's, 163.
'Christ and the Age,' Bevan's, 162.
'Christ and the Jewish Law,' Mackintosh's, 374.
'Christ, Life of,' Watson's, 155.
'Christ, our Life,' Whitfield's, 375.
'Christianity, First Century of,' Cox's, 156.
'Church History of the First Three Centuries,' Baur's, 68.
'Classified Gems of Thought,' Proctor's, 197.
'Constitutional History,' Taswell Langmead's, 384.
'Conversation,' Bowes', 198.
'Cornhill Magazine,' 187; 400.

'Daily Life,' 377.
'Daily Strength for Daily Living,' Clifford's, 160.
'Deutsche Rundschau,' January and February, 202–3; April, May, 397–8.
'Disestablish, Why I Would,' 392.
'Doctrine and Doubt,' Macnaughton's, 375.
'Education, Circulars of Information from Bureau' at Washington, 129.
'Education, Report of Commissioner of,' Washington, 129.
'Edwards' Missionary Labours,' 186.
'Eleanor's Ambition,' Ingham's, 185.
'English Land and English Landlords,' Brodrick's, 91.
'Every-day Life in South India,' 185.
'Faithful Service: Sketches of Christian Women,' Hack's, 179.
'Father Revealed and Christ Glorified,' Bourn's, 159.
'Faust,' Martin's, 181.
'Footsteps of Heroes,' Mellor's, 162.
'Fruits and Fruit Trees,' Grindon's, 187.
'Genesis, Rabbinical Commentary on, Hershon's, 367.
'Gentleman's Magazine Library,' 392.
'Geographical Names, Pronouncing Dictionary,' Chisholm's, 199.
'Geographical Reader,' Chambers', 199.
'Geschichte der Predigt,' Rothe's, 262.
'Geschichte der Predigt,' Nebe's, 262.
'Good Fight, The,' Hunt's, 179.
'Gordon, John, of Pitburg and Parkhill,' 177.
'Gospel, Genius of Fourth,' Thomas', 373.
'Grant, Personal Memoirs of,' 381.
'Greek Philosophy, Outlines of History of,' Zeller's, 172.
'Greek Testament Grammar,' Green's, 196.
'Green's Works,' vol. ii., 378.
'Gulliver's Travels,' 184.

'Hall, Life of Bishop,' Lewis', 383.
Harper's Magazine, January—March, 204; April—June, 400.
Harper's 'Young People,' 204; 400.
Havergal, F. Ridley's, Letters, 180.
'Heavenly Relationships,' Beck's, 375.
'Helps to the Study of the Bible, 378.
'Henry VIII., Reign of,' Brewer's, 49.
'Hibbert Lectures, 1885,' Pfleiderer's, 68.
'Hinduism, Past and Present,' Mitchell's, 199.
'Hobbes,' Robertson's, 171.
'Horæ Psalmicæ,' Fausset's, 165.
'Humanities,' Sinclair's, 183.

'Iliad of Homer,' Way's, 182.
'Immortality: a Clerical Symposium,' 157.
'India, Administration of,' Phillip's, 193.
Inland Navigation, 223; six great lines, &c., 225; canals v. railways, 227; mistaken and mischievous selfishness, 229; poverty and defects, 231; promiscuous confusion and competition, 233; grievances against railways, 235; differential railway rates, 237; comparison with foreign countries, 239; improvements required, 241; steam haulage and improved boats, 243; an Imperial interest, 245.
Ireland under the Tudors, 109; nature of the English invasion, 111; work of the Friars, 113; Mr. Bagwell's book a chronicle, 115; Elizabeth's statecraft, 117; native law did exist outside the pale, 119; Danes prepared the way for the English invasion, 121; Statutes of Kilkenny, 113; no attempt to draw the races together, 125; Irish history a series of dilemmas,' 127.
'Ireland under the Tudors, from 1509 to 1578,' Bagwell's, 109.
'Israel and Judah, History of,' Edersheim's, 180.

'Jewish People, History of,' Schürer's, 363.

'Jottings from the Pacific,' Wyatt-Gill's, 194.
'Judges, Commentary on,' Fausset's, 164.
'Judgment, The Last,' Elliott's, 159.
'Justice and Police,' Maitland's, 192.

'Land, Distribution of, in England,' Birkbeck's, 188.
Land and the Labourers, The, 91; capital, enterprise, liberty, and opportunity, 93; labourer and farmer, 95; restrictions on landlord and tenant, 97; recent reforms in the law of settlement and entail, 99; free trade in land: the new future, 101; small holdings and allotments, 103; Mr. Jesse Collings' Bill, 105; compulsion and compensation, 107.
'Land and the Labourers, The,' Stubbs', 91.
'Land Laws as they are,' Greenwood's, 91.
'Land Question,' Elliot's, 189.
'Lexicon of New Testament, Greek,' Cremer's, 362.
'Life of Lives,' Lewis', 155.
'Lighthouse of St. Peter,' Malan's, 375.
'Lion of the North,' Henty's, 184.
'Living or Dead,' Conway's, 388.

'Magnetism and Electricity,' Tarn's, 198.
'Manual Training,' Ham's, 393.
Marine Messmatism, 246; Mr. Drummond's theories, 247; hermit-crabs, 249; hermit-crabs in society, 251; hermit-crab and the anemone, 253; tendency to befriend other forms of life, 255; questionable analogies and inferences, 257; hermit-crab and its parasite, 259; reason and reverence, 261.
'McCosh's Philosophic Series,' 170.
'Methodism in Ireland,' Crookshank's, 385.
'Methodism in Marshland,' West's, 386.
'Méthodisme dans les Iles de la Manche,' Lelièvre's, 276.
'Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Review of,' January, 204; April, 399.
'Methodist Review,' January, 204; March, May, 399.
'Millennium,' Storrow's, 373.
Missing Links in Nature, 275; organs of flight, 277; whales and porpoises, 279; the Rhytira, 281; succession of life, 283.
'Morals, Principles of,' Wilson and Fowler's, 379.
'Music and Musicians, Dictionary of,' 197.
'Mystery of God,' Tymms', 368.

'Natural Philosophy, Outlines of,' Everett's, 190.
Needlework, 284; needlework older than weaving, 285; little early needlework survived, 287; prices of Babylonish work, 289; opus Anglicanum, 291; sudden change at the Reformation, 293; more embroidery abroad, 295; crewel-work puerilities, 297–9.
'Needlework as Art,' Lady Alford's, 284.
'New Moral Creation,' Cooper's, 374.
'New Testament Revised Version Criticized,' Bartle's, 378.
New Testament Text, Westcott and Hort's, 160.
'Nile, Dwellers on,' Budge's, 195.
'North American Review,' April, May, 398.
'Nouvelle Revue,' December 15—February 15, 201–2; April 1—June 1, 396–7.
'Nuncomar and Impeachment of Sir E. Impey, Story of,' Stephen's, 309.
Nuncomar and Impey, Sir James Stephen on, 309; ambiguity of Regulating Act, 311; Patna cause, 313; Macaulay's misrepresentations, 315; Nuncomar's case, 317; doubts as to jurisdiction, 319; origin of the charge, 321; violence of triumvirate, 323; council convinced of Nuncomar's guilt, 325; extreme improbability of story, 327; sentimentalism of eighteenth century, 329.

'Ocean Currents and Tides,' Jordan's, 190.
'Oceana,' Froude's, 389.
'Old Testament, Translation of,' Spurrell's, 377.
'Opposite House, and other Stories,' Perram's, 186.
'Organic Philosophy,' Doherty's, 171.
'Origines de la France Contemporaine, Les,' 4 vols., Taine's, 24.

'Parables of our Lord,' Dods', 167.
'Parish, Tale of a Lonely,' Crawford's, 388.
'Paul,' Baur's, 68.
'Paulinism: a contribution to the history of primitive Christian theology,' Pfleiderer's, 68.
Paulinism and Legalism, 68; Strauss and Baur, 69; Pfleiderer's Paulinism, 71; Pfleiderer's Rationalism, 73; an erroneous assumption, 75; Paul's doctrinal teaching, 77; theories as to the Apocalypse, 79; the third and fourth gospels, 81; as to epistles supposed to be of a later age, 83; the theory unhistorical, 85; Tübingen hypothesis elaborately artificial, 87; what modern Rationalism makes of Jesus Christ, 89.

'Pentateuch, its Origin and Structure,' Bissell's, 164.
'People's Day,' Arthur's, 199.
'Platform Aids,' 198.
'Poems,' Willsbro's, 387.
'Prayer Book Psalter,' Oakeley's, 198.
Preaching, History of, 262; influence of the age on the pulpit, 263; Eastern Church, 265; early Latin Church, 267; mediæval preachers, 269; modern times, 271; Catholic pulpit, 273.
'Presbyterian Review,' January, 203; April, 398–9.
'Promise and Vow,' Twixt,' Elliott's, 186.
'Prophets of Old Testament,' M. D. H.'s, 166.
'Prospectuses of Landowners' Voluntary Extension of Allotments System,' 91.
'Pulpit Commentary,' on II. Corinthians and Galatians, 167; Ephesians, &c., 372.

'Quest and Vision,' Dawson's, 388.

'Railway Rates and Fares, Report of Committee on,' 223.
'Railways and Canals,' Hercules', 223.
'Reform, History of Constitutional,' Murdoch's, 191.
'Reforms of Parliament, Three,' Heaton's, 191.
'Religious Tract Society Library,' 394.
'Reminiscences of an Attaché,' Jerningham's, 391.
'Revision Reasons,' Gillespie's, 169.
'Revue des Deux Mondes,' December 15—February 15, 200–1; April 1—June 1, 395–6.
'Romans, Commentary and Notes,' O'Connor's, 366.
'Rule of Faith and Inspiration,' Watts', 158.

'Schofield, Memorials of, R. H. A.,' 178.
'School of Prayer, with Christ, in the,' Murray's, 375.
'Scientific Illustrations and Symbols,' 189.
'Scotland, Domestic Annals,' Chambers', 180.
'Secret of the Mere,' Wray's, 186.
'Sermons in Brief,' 163.
'Shakespeare: What we really know about,' Dall's, 387.
'Siam and the Siamese,' 186.
'Simon Holmes,' Wray's, 186.
'Socrates, Trial and Death,' Church's, 384.
'Spirit, Work of Holy,' Candlish's, 373.
'State and City Reports (American),' 129.
'Successful Merchant,' Arthur's, 179.
'Sundays, Your,' Everard's, 378.
'Synoptical Lectures on Books of Bible,' Fraser's, 371.

'Tablets for Sunday-Schools,' 185.
Taine's Revolution, 24; Taine and his comrades at the Normal School, 25; principles and aims as historian, 27; causes of the Revolution, 29; his three last volumes, 31; Robespierre—the Convention, 33; miseries of the ruined people, 35; M. Taine and the English view, 37; revolutionary morals, 39; Taine and Macaulay, 41; Taine compared with other historians, 43; earlier and later volumes, 45; final attitude, 47.
'Tapestry, Short History of,' Müntz, 284.
'Textile Fabrics,' Rock's, 284.
'Theology, Introduction to,' Cave's, 370.
'Thirty Thousand Thoughts,' 168.
'Three Acres and a Cow,' Impey's, 91.
'Throne of Eloquence,' Hood's, 196.
'Time Flies,' Rosetti's, 169.
'Truth in Tale,' Bishop Carpenter's, 162.
'Turf, Morals of,' 300; dupers and dupes, 301; pigeons and hawks, 303; blackguards and peers, 305; diamond cut diamond, 307; influence of turf on morals, 309.
'Turf, Reminiscences of,' Day's, 300.
'Two Thousand Years Ago,' Church's, 184.

'Uncrowned Prince in Israel,' Mackenzie's, 375.
'Unsere Zeit,' January, 203; April, 398.
'Utilitarianism,' Thomson's, 172.

'Vestiges of Natural History of Creation,' Chambers', 390.

'Waiting: an Allegorical Story,' Ingham's, 185.
Ward's 'Farewell Letter,' 1.
Wesleyan Conference Publications, 186; 394.
'Whitfield Anecdotes,' Macaulay's, 393.
'Wilfred and Marion,' Alexander's, 181.
'Worship, Laws concerning Religious,' Jenkins, 193.

'Zechariah: his Visions and Warnings,' Alexander's, 166.

PRINTED BY BALLANTYNE, HANSON AND CO.
LONDON AND EDINBURGH